

DUCHARME, McMILLEN & ASSOCIATES, INC.

The employee-owners of DuCharme, McMillen & Associates, Inc. (DMA) take great pride in our legacy and tradition of excellence. For over three decades, DMA has been assisting companies in minimizing the cost and administration of corporate taxation. We are proud that we have saved our clients over $2 billion since our inception.

DMA's mission is quite simple. We provide solutions that equip corporate tax leaders in their pursuit of excellence.

At DMA, our mission statement does not merely hang on the walls of our offices. The philosophies below embody our mission statement, and we are dedicated to incorporating these philosophies into our approach to the marketplace and each client relationship.

- We partner with our clients in their pursuit of excellence. We are committed to understanding their unique circumstances and tailoring our solutions to meet their objectives.
- We focus on performance improvement, not simply the continuous provision of services. We implement customized solutions to enhance the efficiency, effectiveness, and accuracy of corporate tax departments, thereby increasing their overall corporate value.
- We view retrospective cost recovery not as an end, but a means to a greater goal of prospective improvement. In addition to creative tax savings identification, we uncover the cause of tax errors and address the root of the problem thereby reducing the opportunity for future mistakes.
- We understand the value of a "One Stop Shop" when it comes to consulting expertise, but also understand that nobody is an expert in every category. To this end, DMA forms true strategic partnerships with best-of-class service providers to augment our capabilities and assist our clients in securing a comprehensive solution.

DMA employee-owners, as stakeholders, take pride in their commitment to the above philosophies and the fulfillment of our mission. As we look to the future, we have confidence in our expanded mission of equipping tax leaders in their pursuit of excellence and believe our approach sets us apart in the marketplace.
